First Anniversary.

The Salvation Army celebrated the first anniversary of its entrance in this city, last evening. The audience present at the barracks numbered about one hundred people, and the exercises were not different from the regular evening meetings. About twenty of the soldiers occupied the platform, including the orchestra. During the testimony meeting brother Ed. Coye said he was a firm believer in the free and full sulvation of the army. If he was mayor they would parade the streets just as much as they chose. "The mayor's action," said be, " is an open insult to religion. He has slapped God squarely in the face." The usual number of painted damsels sat in the audience and winked and smiled apon the young men, who followed them from the harracks. It is a question which end of the hall proves the greater attraction to the boys-the platform with its soldiers and second class minstral orchestra, or the corr and where, sprinkled through the seats, sit young women who in pleasant weather parade the sidewalks in pairs and pick up the boys on the streets.

FARMERS IN SESSION.

THE LAW OF SUICIDE DISCUSSED.

Should be Taught Agriculture

in the Schools.

The Opinion Expressed That Children

There were but few present at the regular meeting of the West Michigan Farmers' Club vesterday afternoon, although the meeting proved to be quasually enjoyable and instructive. Hon S. L. Fuller, presiding, read Judge Parrish's lecture on "The Law of Suicide." The subject is one upon which there is much variance in opinion, particularly as to the mental condition of the victim. The Judge covered the law upon the subject from the dawn of the Christian world up to the present day, describing the various opinions and penalties in vogue in the different ages.

Upon the conclusion of the lecture the members had a brief general discussion upon the subject treated, upon the conclusion of which the President read a communication from the officers of the Louisville Exposition, thanking the Club for past favors, and asking for a continuance of their support and approval. President Fuller stated that he had been corresponding with some parties in Ohio, relative to the teaching of the elementary principles of agriculture in the schools. It had been undertaken with some success one county in that State. Mr. Fuller had a book on the "Science of Agriculture," published in Tennessee, under the direction of | the aid of the lists of the Superintendent of the Legislature of that State. It covered the the Poor, and the suggestions of Superintendwhole ground, and was one worthy of the attention of the members of the Club. This brought out some good ideas from the other members, the tendency of all of which was to the effect that the children should be instructed in regard to agriculture, especially in the district schools, which are attended almost entirely by the sons of farmers, and who would be greatly benefited thereby. At first much difficulty would be encountered in extending a knowledge of it, as the teachers are unprepared and incompetent to give instruction upon the topic. The intention of the discussion was merely to the point that the young man who started out upon a farm would, with a thorough drilling as to the science, the chemistry of agriculture, be enabled to readily grasp the practical experience, and his success would be much more prompt than if obliged, as now, to learn the whole subject merely from every-day, practical experiment. The Club then took up the discussion of the regular subject assigned for the meeting, namely: "The best method of feeding and taking care of sheep." The opinions and experiences related were quite Rooms, on Pearl street, this evening. His varied, but the main gist of the talk agreed | politics) during the past year, and who in the fact that sheep should be kept warm, under cover, have plenty of straw, fresh air, and be fed on hay, corn, brau, oats, etc. day of general rejoicing without an individ-Then followed a talk on several subjects of

AN APPEAL.

The Ladles of the U. B. A. Ask For Contributions.

Could the friends of the poor have seen the crowds of applicants in the halls of the U. B. Home last Tuesday afternoon and the numbers reluctantly turned away empty handed, simply from inability to supply their wants, their hearts would surely have been touched with pity. All ages and classes were represented, from the bent, decrepit grandmother to the infant in arms.

Cold weather is upon us, labor is scarce and wages small, already the supplies of the Home are nearly exhausted. Thanksgiving Day is close at hand, how can we "rejoice and be glad" as we gather around our well-filled tables, without having first given of our substance to the hungry and suffering ones about us? The ladies of the U. B. A. have long proven their fidelity and faithfulness to all trusts confided to their care. They now ask that during this week especially they may receive generous contribu-tions of money, provisions and money, new or old. Let a good dinner be provided for the inmates and an abundance for the needy throughout the city. All gifts will be gratefully received and judiciously distributed.

Mrs. Wilmarh, Secretary.

That Memorial Fountain.

There appears to be a misapprehension on the part of some, of the action taken by the City Council in the matter of the proposed monument to be erected at the head of Monroe street. The initiatory steps in this movement were taken some twenty years ago when an association was formed in this county known as the Kent County Monument Association, having for its object the erection of a monument of some kind in memory of the soldiers who fought and fell in the war for the Union. At that time funds were accumulated to the amount of $600. Alderman Gilbert was president of the association and the money has been in his hands since and the original, together with its accumulations, now amounts to the sum of $2,500. This sum, together with what can be realized from voluntary donations is what it is proposed to use in the erection of the memorial fountain at the head of Monroe street. The action of the Council did not pledge the city to the expenditure of any money, but only granted permission to the association to erect the monument and donated the ground for the site. Alderman Gilbert deserves much credit for his part in the successful prosecution of the scheme thus far, and it is to be hoped that voluntary subscriptions will be made by our citizens sufficient to erect a monument that will be a lasting honor to the city.

Special Services. As their contract only gives them the use of the Opera House on Sundays the Unitarians will not hold any service to-morrow; they are, however, arranging for a harvest festival on Sunday evening, a service commemorative of Thanksgiving. These services will, besides being attractive, reasonable, impressive and instructive, will also on from a musical standpoint. The quartette will be strengthsued, and Powers's Opera House orchestra will furnish the music. The children of the Sunday school will participate in the way of giving recitations, and addresses will be deavered by Dr. Reingham, Prof. Strong and the lamps, that never burn. Lest night be the paster, Rev. Henry Powers.

A WORTHY PROJECT.

Provision to be Made for the Poor on Thanksgiving.

Though Grand Rapids is prosperous, has wealth and abundant resources, nevertheless there are in the community "the poor ye have with you always." Being on the verge of the season when it is said the worthy or unworthy poor suffer most, and apropos of to-morrow being a day assigned for universal thanksgiving and grateful acknowledgement for the fruits of the past year, several wealthy and charitably-disposed gentlemen in this city propose that the poor of the city shall have occasion to-morrow for thanksgiving as well as those who are blessed with plenty. The movement is headed by Congressman Houseman, who will have general direction of the project, and Mr. I. M. Weston, who will care for the funds. Superintendent Perry will also lend his aid, and will meet the gentlemen above named at Sweet's Hotel this morning at 9:30 o'clock. It is proposed to raise by popular subscription four or five hundred dollars. As the occassion and the object make the move a most worthy one. No trouble is anticipated in raising the amount proposed any further than the time necessary to call upon citizens and obtain their signatures. After this labor is completed the gentlemen desire to meet the aldermen of the different wards at 4 o'clock, at the office of the Superintendent of the Poor. It is hoped that this meeting will reveal all the needy cases in the city. The alderman will probably be cognizant of the number of needy families residing in their respective wards, and with ent Perry as to cases that have came under his observation, it is believed that it will be possible to contribute to every poor family in the city, so that they may enjoy a solid Thanksgiving dinner. A committee will be appointed from among those present to buy the poultry, oysters, steaks, and other things they may suggest to add flavor to a Thanksgiving "square meal." After the committee have completed their labors, the provisions will be loaded in the city supplywagon, and other wagons if necessary, and distributed among those for whose happiness and benefit they were purchased. They will probably reserve some of the good things, and hope to be able to find some enterprising restaurant keeper who will volunteer to take them and prepare a suitable dinner for the little street gamins who have no home to which to go, and who are dependent for a scanty living upon what they can earn "shining 'em up." or, "Here's yer Moening Telegram, only two cents." There are many citizens, who will have ample justification for feeling grateful for successes they have attained (barring should contribute their trifle toward an obual exception. By so doing they will realize interest to the farmer, upon the finish of the contentment, the truth and the spiritual which the Club adjourned. Patti Rosa To-Morrow.

Patti Rosa will inaugurate a season of five performances at Redmond's Opera House, commencing with a matinee to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, giving people ample time to first consider their Thanksgiving dinner. As the press in the other cities all sing praises of this talented little lady, it is fair to hope that both play and company will prove one of the best entertainments of the season. When they were in New Haven, Conn., the Register of that city said the fol-

Last evening and this afternoon there was a good attendance at Carll's, and the comedy "Mizpah," in which the sprightly and beautiful Patti Rosa fills an important part, was apparently greatly enjoyed. The songs and dances by this accomplished young actress were given with excellent spirit, and she was supported by excellent actors. This evening the entertainment will be repeated, and doubtiess there will be a full house.

Mrs. Knight lectured yesterday on the subject of "Broiling and Frying," and explained all the intricacies of this part of the culinary art. She gave practical application to her methods and receipts, in the frying of potatoes, vesl and mutton, and in the prepartion of batter and bread crumbs for those and other dishes. To-morrow the subject will be, "Entrees and Little Dishes," and on Thanksgiving afternoon Mrs. Knight will give a special cheap-rate lecture on "Bread Making."

Valuable.

It has always been a custom to make Christmas presents, and people should in making their selections take the value and usefulness of the article into consideration. What brings more enjoyment in a family than one of those magnificent Sohmer Up-right pianos which stand unrivalled in the market, or a Beler piano, one of the world renowned Estey or Packard organs. For these and a great many smaller articles, such as guitars, violions, folios, drums, etc., call at Paul H. Friedrich's, No. 24 Monroe street, who keeps everything in the music line.

Mrs. Sophia W. Knight will give a lesson on bread-making in various ways, Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in Science Hall. An admission of 25 cents will be charged, as this is not included in the regular course.

Artificial Light

In these days of progress there is a deand for better means of ill than ever before. The decating brillies of the electric light makes our co kerosene lamps as dim as tallow dips in the comparison. This demand has been fully met by the introduction of the Sun Lamps. They are necessarily made of metal because the draft or chimney extends down through the center of the lamp. The wicks are five inches wide and give a light of forty-five candle power, equal brought out at the close of last season, but the price was so high-$6 each-but few were sold. Owing to the enormous demand which has sprung up, they are now produced at a price within the reach of all, and sold for $3 in brass and $3.50 in nickel, complete with ten-inch porcelain shade. To persons troubled with weak eyes or those who desire to preserve their eyesight by means of a good light, the Sun Lamp will prove a blessing. The New Styles of Hanging Lamps are made of a gold color solid bronze metal, and trimmed with cut glass prisms and decorated shades. The dome-shaped shades look the best, but we imagine the angle of reflection from the cone shape is best for throwing light down. These lamps are also much cheaper than last year. They are now sold at from $5 to $7 each. Fine table lamps are furnished with duplex or twowick burners, giving double the light of the single wick burners. There are many styles of these lamps on exhibition, including solid bronze and the popular hammered brass. For information received thanks are due Messrs. H. Leonard & Sons, importers, 16 Monroe street.

Radiant Home BASEBURNER 1884.

As manufacturers of Base-Burning Stores on ducively, the makers of the Hadlaky House have been before the public for over seventsen years. There can be but few persons in this con are not familiar with the high reputation gained by the RADIANT HOME STOVES - a regulation to three gas burners. These lamps were of hot-house growth, forced by artificial means. decaying as rapidly as it appears, but a steady, vigorous growth, built up on the only true besis. viz.; that of gonuine morit. It has been their sim and constant study to so improve and perfect the RADIANT HOME STOVES, that ther should deservedly rank highest in the market. With this aim constantly in view, as each year's experience indicated something wherein they could improve the working qualities increme the heating capacity, or render to tive in ornamentation, they have spared no pains or expense to accomplish this object. As evidence that success has attended their efforts, they point to the ever increasing popularity of the RADIANT HOME STOVES. Their intrinsic has proved their best agent and advertiser.

> In the 1884 pattern they have made some change which they think very desirable and mater improved. The changes consist of an entirely new and larger fire pot and grate, which a largely to the heating capacity, without increase nsumption of fuel. The ush pit is made de taking a larger ash-pan. The urn is altog new, made of spun brass, nickel plated and bean tiful in design, greatly adding to the general attractive appearance. They confidently claim, as heretofore, that the RADIANY HOME STOVES IN quality and smoothness of custing: through fitting and mounting, and as powerful heaters, not only have no superiors, but they stand unrivalled.
